

HOST THE NEXT BeMUSEUM CONFERENCE.

Would you like to host the next edition of BeMuseum in your museum?
Please contact us!

// WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW.

The BeMuseum conferences take place every year on the 2nd Friday of October.
The next edition of BeMuseum will therefore take place on Friday, October 14, 2022.

To host BeMuseum, your museum must be able to make the following items available as a courtesy:

- A conference room with a capacity of about 200 seated people (ideally about 300 m2),
- An adjacent room (or easily connected to the main room) large enough to accommodate the reception, catering and "TechBreak" area (ideally about 125 m2) with access to multiple power outlets,
- A room nearby for holding a parallel session and/or workshops (capacity of about 25 seated people),
- The following furniture: chairs (about 250), tables (about 15), standing tables (about 10), lectern and other furniture for the stage, dressing room (or rod), projectors, microphones, extension cords, signage devices and wifi (for use by staff and TechBreakers),
- Support for setting up and dismantling then conference and for the technical details.

This information is given as an indication. We are of course open to discussing together.

// COUNTERPARTS.

In return, BeMuseum will be delighted:

- Involve the host museum in the conference program and think together with your team on how to develop new collaborations,
- To offer visibility on all our communication media as a Strategic Partner for the host year (website, social networks, newsletter, press kit),
- To offer several tickets to the conference for your staff (number of seats to be discussed).

// CONTACTS.

Jennifer BEAULOYE, co-founder and director (jbeauloye@kanal.brussels)